MILWAUKEE:

Tuesday Morning, April 15.

THE CHANCE FOR FREEDOM IN KANSAS.—GOV. ROBINSON of Kansas, who is now at the East, addressed a meeting in the rooms of the Emigrant Aid Society, Boston, on the 9th instant.

He expressed very decidedly the opinion that the safety of Kansas as a free state depends upon defeating Mr. Douglas's bill for a new constitutional convention, as, under the present Administration and its laws, there would be no chance of securing a fair election.

He added that MR. ATCHISON, who is President, so far as Kansas is concerned, is believed to have a very large sum of money (reported at two or three millions) at his command, to force Slavery into Kansas. In many of the Southern States companies are fitting out, or have already started, to aid in this commendable and Christian (!) enterprise. But all will avail nothing if the North be true and steadfast. Kansas will be free, if the Free States do not desert her.

A DISCOVERY.—The Madison Patriot, belonging to the anti-Forty branch of the democratic party, has made a great discovery, which it records in the following language:

> The passage by Congress of the Kansas-Nebraska Act, gave to violent anti-slavery sentiment of the North, excitement enough to enable it to fuse discordant elements into an incongruous party, and gave it sufficient vitality to enable it to carry many of the northern states; but now we think that the sober second thought of nearly all people at the north believe that this very act, once so denounced, is the stepping stone to the admission of free states south of Mason & Dixon's line, while its authors, once so vilified and abused, will yet reap the reward of far-sighted and sagacious statesmen.

We think we see "nearly all the people at the North" shouting the praise of Pierce and Douglas, the "farsighted and sagacious statesmen" who are the authors and promoters of the Kansas-Nebraska act. Friend Carpenter's rotary pump was a great discovery in mechanics, but this development in politics beats it out of sight.

MILWAUKEE AND BELOIT RAIL ROAD.—The books of subscription to the capital stock of this Company will be open to-day in the rooms of the Commercial Insurance Company, Martins Block, and at the office of Messrs. H. & J. F. HILL. The road is one of very great importance to our city, and deserves liberal aid at our hands. The capitalists, property holders and business men of Milwaukee should subscribe not less than $100,000 to the stock.

Milwaukee & Beloit Railroad.

The following letter, addressed by a prominent and influential citizen of Freeport to the President of the Milwaukee and Beloit R. R. Company, embodies some strong arguments in favor of this enterprize, and reflects the friendly feeling entertained towards it all along the profected route:

FREEPORT, April 9.

Horatio Hill, Esq., President of the Milwaukee, & Beloit Rail Road Company:

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of the 24th ult., was received in due time. I have shown it to many of our business men, and have obtained an expression of their opinion in regard to the building of the Milwaukee & Beloit R. R.

The subject of a Rail Road to Lake Michigan in the direction of Milwaukee, is one in which they have felt a deep interest for three or four years past.

It is an enterprize they desire to see completed at an early day, and are willing to aid in any practical way.

Some four years ago a charter was obtained by citizens of Stephenson and Carol counties in this State, for a Rail Road from Savanah on the Mississippi to Freeport a distance of some 25 miles, and a year after, another was obtained for a Road from Freeport to Rockton near Beloit. From that time the subject lay dormant in the public mind, until the past winter, for the reason that our people met with no response from Wisconsin.

It seemed as if Milwaukee had forgotten that in the early days of her growth and prosperity, she derived a large share of her business from this portion of Illinois.

During the past winter a proposition came from the Racine & Mississippi Rail Road Company to consolidate their Road with the two Roads above mentioned, which has been accepted, and the Racine and the Mississippi, the Freeport & Rockton & Freeport & Savannah Roads have been consolidated and may now be considered as one Road.

The proposition of Racine was the first and only proposition we had received from Wisconsin at the time, and it was accepted because our people were satisfied that the enterprise would be carried to completion at any early day.

Having given this general view of the subject at this time, I will answer your questions in the order which they occur.

You ask, "are the people of your town and vicinity interested in building the Milwaukee & Beloit Road?"

I answer that they are. There is but one opinion on the subject from Rochester to Savannah. They are in favor of building the road, provided it intersects the Racine Road as near Racine as it conveniently can.

It is thought unnecessary to build two roads parallel and so near each other as the two must be, much of the way to Beloit, where one would answer the purpose of two tracks.

The desire of our business men is, to build one good road to Lake Michigan in the direction of Milwaukee.

If the Milwaukee & Beloit Road intersects the Racine & Mississippi say at the county seat of Walworth county, it will necessarily increase the business of the Racine & Mississippi Road and will not act as a competitor. And this arrangement will answer the wants of Milwaukee as well as if she built her road the entire distance to Beloit.

But the question may arise, will Milwaukee be allowed to use the track of the Racine & Mississippi Road?

There is but one opinion on that subject from Beloit to Savannah; and there can be but one opinion west of the point of intersection of the two roads, from the necessity of the case.

The people here who are interested in the Racine Road are decidedly in favor of one of two propositions, and they are these. Either consolidate the Milwaukee & Beloit Road with the Racine & Mississippi Road, or else allow the former to use the track of the latter west of the point of intersection on reasonable terms.

Milwaukee can count on our people being in favor of one or the other of these propositions, and their uniting in effecting one or the other.

Your next question is, "Can we count on you and them for any assistance, and if so, in what way, and to what extent will you aid us?"

Our view of the matter is, that Milwaukee and the people on the line of the route build the road to the county seat of Walworth county, and there form a connection with the Racine Road.

Racine has built her road to Delavan, and has means and will complete it to Beloit early the coming summer. We will build the road from the State line at Beloit to Savannah. A million and a half of dollars have been already subscribed by our people on the line of the road. Enough has been subscribed to complete the work, and it will be pressed to an early completion.

We therefore propose to aid you in working for the consolidation of the two Roads, or else you may count on our people using their influence to allow the Milwaukee & Beloit Road to use the track of the Racine and M. Road the whole distance.

We do not want the M. & B. Road to be in the position of a competing Road. We want a paying Road from Savannah to Lake Michigan in the direction of Milwaukee. Our people desire a connection with Milwaukee. There is but one sentiment on the subject, from the State line at Beloit to Savanah. I have stated these sentiments briefly, and upon which you can rely.

I will conclude with the hope that the enterprize in which Milwaukee and our people are so mutually interested, will be pressed to completion within a reasonable time, and that more intimate commercial and social relations may hereafter exist between them.

I am yours truly.

"My dear," said an affectionate spouse to her husband, "am I not your only treasure? "Oh yes," was the cool reply, "and I would willingly lay you up in heaven."

CITY AFFAIRS.

The New Council—Message of the Mayor.

The newly elected City Officers met last evening at the Common Council Room, to be inducted into their respective posts. The Old Board first met, and after the transaction of some unimportant business, and the adoption of votes of thanks to the Mayor, JAMES B. CROSS, and the Clerk, R. WHITEHEAD, for the able and faithful manner in which they had discharged their duties during the past year, adjourned sine die.

The Member of the new Board were then sworn in and took their seats.

On Motion of Ald. HADLEY, the Rules and Regulations of the Old Board were adopted for the government of the New.

On motion of Ald. HAERTEL, the Council proceeded to elect a President pro tem, when Ald. HADLY received 18 votes to 2, scattering, was declared duly elected.

The Council next proceeded to the election of a clerk, the ballot resulting as follows:

Robert Whitehead	13
Robert Lynch	5
Blank	2

ROBERT WHITEHEAD was thereupon declared duly elected. (There was some cheering, and some grumbling also, at this result, among the lobby outside.)

The Council proceeded next to chose two official papers; one English and the other German. For the first, the News received 17 votes; the Sentinel 2 and the Wisconsin 1. For the second, the Banner received 12, and the See Bote 3 votes. So the News and Banner were designated as the organs.

WILLIAM S. TROWBRIDGE was elected City Surveyor and E. F. HETZBERG, Wood Inspector.

On motion of Ald. HAERTEL, 500 copies in pamphlet form, in English and German, of the Mayor's Message and Comptrollers Report, were ordered printed.

On motion of Ald. Haertel, the Clerk was instructed to furnish each of the city papers with condensed report of the proceedings for publication—at a compensation of $150 per annum.

The Mayor announced the standing committees for the ensuing year.

Alderman Hadley presented the Memorial of the Milwaukee and Beloit R. R. Company for aid—which was referred.

The question of salaries for the different officers was referred to a select Committee.

The Bridge Committee were authorized to report, at next meeting, the names of suitable persons for bridgetender.

A journed to a week from Thursday.

The following is the

MESSAGE OF THE MAYOR.

Gentlemen of the Common Council:

You have been elected by the suffrages of the people of this city, with peculiar reluctance to your fitness and qualifications for the office into which you are now inducted, and it is reasonable and natural that they should expect that you would so discharge the duties of your office, as to reflect credit upon the city, and honor upon yourselves. The duties of Aldermen are by no means desirable or profitable and he who anticipates anything different will no doubt find himself much mistaken. We have all of us accepted our respective offices knowing that there was no pecuniary reward prescribed for our services, and no rule of equity or justice by which we could reasonably anticipate any compensation. If any one has been induced to accept the office in anticipation of direct or indirect pecuniary reward, excepting such as may legitimately flow in upon the whole city as a consequence of wise and judicious management of our municipal affairs, I trust that he may be sadly disappointed and that he may never again be induced to take the office of Alderman. It is generally presumed that there must necessarily be some compensation either directly or indirectly or else there would be less applicants for the office. There are those in every community whose desire for riches are so sordid, and whose selfish ambitions are so interwoven with visions of wealth, that they cannot conceive or understand how it is that a man is capable of doing a noble disinterested act, or of spending a year in the service of the city without compensation or reward. Mankind are prone to judge others by themselves—to establish a standard of virtue and morality for others, founded upon the same basis and constructed of the same materials, as that which they are accustomed to set up for themselves. In enlisting in the service of the city, and in discharging your respective duties faithfully and fearlessly, your motives will often be impugned by others, no matter how disinterestedly you may labour to enhance the welfare and prosperity of the city. A venal partisan press will often abuse and vilify in hopes of irritating your temper or of intimidating your actions. Occasionally too it will fawn and flatter in order to obtain some selfish end. The press, although regarded as an engine of great power and influence, is often powerful only for evil. Editors even are sometimes fallible, and when under the influence of mere partisan feeling, as is too often the case are much more likely to be wrong than right. In too many instances they are mere automatons or machines doing their labor at the will or caprice of others, having no independence of their own, and are really more to be pitied than censured.

As members of this council, you are required to do only that which your judgments and honest convictions tell you is right and for the highest good of the city, without regard to what this man may think in the premises, or what the public press even may say upon the subject. If your administration of the affairs of the city is prolific gate and extravagant the public generally will condemn your administration. But if on the other hand the city government shall have been administered economically, wisely and prudently —if the city shall have prospered under the fostering hand of your administration beyond that of any former year, the people generally will approve of your conduct and sanction you proceedings, no matter under whose particular administration or "dynasty" this may happen. The general good of the whole people is what you are to consult. You should strive to build up a commercial and prosperous city, with wholesome laws and ordinances. Reduce if possible the present rates of taxation. Protect and preserve the health and peace of the City. Introduce economy and reform into every branch and department of the city government. Infuse new life and activity into our public works, encourage education, morality, and virtue, and let the coming year through your labors and exertions be an improvement, if possible, upon the past. The office of Alderman is one of more importance than any other in the city government. The whole authority of the city is vested in the Common Council, and whatever you may see fit to do in your corporate capacity, if not repugnant to the Constitution and laws of the State, is of as much binding force and validity as is enacted by the Legislature of the State. Sufficient care and deliberation, has not, heretofore in every instance been exercised in the passage of ordinances affecting the varied interests of our city. The several ordinances of the city should be revised, remodeled, and re-enacted with as little delay as possible. I would recommend and urge the appointment of some suitable person or persons to revise and correct such of the ordinances as may need revision and correction, and collect them together and superintend their publication, in book form, together with the constitution of the United States and of this State, the city charter and amendatory acts and all laws relating to our city.

The charter, ordinances, &c., were published in pamphlet form some three years ago, and at the present time there is not a spare copy in the city, and none whatever for the use of this Board. A committee of three were appointed at an early part of the last year for this purpose, but owing to other engagements they were unable to discharge their duties, and thus the matter has been neglected and delayed. Let the Council select some competent person for this purpose immediately, who may devote his whole time and attention to the subject until the work is completed. It is of but little use to pass ordinances and resolutions affecting the interests and welfare of the people unless you place within their reach a knowledge of their contents.

The Report of the City Comptroller comprising all the financial transactions of the past year, the amount of revenue derived from taxes, &c., and the various disbursements made, will be laid before you at an early day, to which I beg leave to refer you for a detailed statement of the financial condition of the city.

From this Report it appears, that the outstanding Bonds of the city, at the present time, amount in the aggregate to $1,612,550. Of this amount $1,584,000 consists of city Bonds loaned, from time to time, in aid of different railroad enterprises, and $228,550 of city Bonds on account of the city's own indebtedness. Of this latter amount, the sum of $111,000 falls due on the 31st day of March, A. D. 1857. Timely provision should therefore be made, to meet this indebtedness, when the same becomes due, either by the issue of new Bonds, or by the levy of sufficient tax, to pay the whole sum, or a portion thereof, and the residue, to be provided for by a sinking fund, to be raised by an annual tax until the whole indebtedness is paid.

The balance in the city Treasury on the 1st day of March, 1856, was about $88,000. Ninety per cent. of last year's tax has already been paid, thus showing a highly commendable spirit of promptness on the part of the tax-payers.

Our Railroad system has reached that point of progress, which ensures the construction of the principal, and most important roads heretofore projected, and now partially completed, leading into and out of Milwaukee. The credit of our city has been loaned to a large amount in order to accomplish this object. By an act of the last Legislature the Common Council are empowered with authority to loan the credit of the city, to an amount not exceeding, in the aggregate, (including previous loans,) two millions of dollars, to aid works of this kind by submitting the question to a vote of the people, and obtaining their approval. I think the time has come, when we should exercise this right to further loan the city credit with a great deal of caution, and prudence, and not plunge heedlessly, and rashly into debt, because the pay day is afar off, or because we may be apparently well secured by a second mortgage upon a Railroad. These several roads may all pay as an investment to-day, but some of them may be worthless in the course of twenty years; and if so, our securities to indemnify the city are partially, if not wholly worthless. There is but little doubt in my mind, but that the main trunk roads, to which Milwaukee has thus far loaned her credit, will be good paying roads, and the city will probably never lose one dollar thereby. But whether it will be the part of wisdom, and good policy, to further loan the credit of the city to other enterprises of a like nature, but which must necessarily come more or less into competition with the respective roads to which the city has heretofore loaned its credit, is a question for you to carefully examine, and determine. There is also another point of view in which I would ask you to look at this question. All the loans of the city credit which have heretofore been made to these respective Railroad Companies, were made in pursuance of an act of the Legislature, authorizing the Common Council, to loan the credit of the city, by issuing City Bonds to an an amount not exceeding One Million and a half of Dollars.

Is there not in this act of the Legislature an implied limit, as to the aggregate amount of Bonds which the city could legally issue, in aid of these enterprises? Have not the bond holders an interest in this question? Why is it that our bonds are selling in the New York Market so much below par, when the bonds of other cities, no better in fact, are selling at a premium? It is just as much our duty to protect the rights, and interests of the bond holders, as to encourage these Rail Roads, and unless we do so, our bonds will be unsought, our credit irreparably impaired, and our good name and reputation, which is above all price, become a bye-word, and a proper subject of reproach "on change." Our bonds for city and Rail Road purposes are outstanding to the amount of $1,612,650—and yet our Assessment Roll of Real Estate and improvements, foots up to only $2,659,280.

In a foreign market, without the means of knowing the actual wealth of the Real Estate of our city, capitalists are in a great measure governed by the assessed value of our Real Estate as returned by the assessor, and confirmed by the Common Council. From the last assessment the city would appear to be encumbered for more than one half of its entire value. Our method of assessing, no doubt does us great injury and injustice abroad, from the fact that our Real Estate is not, on an average, assessed at more than one eight of its current cash value. This condition of things exists throughout the State, and so long as the assessment is uniform and proportionate, it does no particular injury here at home, excepting as it has a bad effect abroad. The lower the assessment, the higher the per cent. of taxation. By this means our city and state acquire an unmerited reputation abroad for high taxes, when in fact our taxes are as low perhaps as in any state in the Union, if we take into consideration the current cash value of our Real Estate. If the assessment in this city and state were properly made, our taxes for all general purposes would not exceed one per cent. But under our present system of taxation our general tax appears abroad to be very high, when in fact it is quite low, and our city appears to be encumbered for more than one half of its assessed value, when if our Real estate were properly estimated the encumbrance would not exceed one twentieth part of its real value. This whole system of assessment and taxation is wrong and calculated to create a false impression abroad, both as to our city and state, and is no doubt one of the causes of our city credit, or bonds, being below par in the New York Market. While this state of things exist, we should use the greater caution in future to keep our credit unimpaired, good name and reputation above par. If by careless or imprudent management we do anything calculated to injure our credit, and thus to depreciate the market value of the Bonds already issued, we are doing the bond holders irreparable injury as well as tarnishing our own financial reputation. While it is the policy of the city to aid, and encourage every enterprise calculated to enhance its growth and prosperity, it is also the part of wisdom to see that the city is amply secured against the ultimate payment of the credit which the Common Council think proper to loan.

We shall have occasion soon, I trust, to use our credit for works of public utility of as much, if not more importance to the interest of the city, than any new railroad enterprize. I allude to the time that some steps were taken in regard to the construction of water works in our city. I would recommend, that the question of a loan of the city credit for that purpose, be submitted to a vote of the people at an early day. I understand that there are parties ready and willing to engage in an enterprize of this kind at once, if proper encouragement can be given by a loan of the city credit. An act of the Legislature, passed a year ago last winter, authorizes the Common Council to submit the question to the people, and to issue bonds of the city to an amount not exceeding $100,000 for that purpose. This is a work of vital importance to the city, and should be encouraged by all laudable means in our power. I need not enumerate the many benefits and advantages to be derived from the construction of suitable water works, in aiding the fire departments in their labors, in reducing the present rates of fire insurance, in conducing to the health of the city by promoting cleanliness of our streets and alleys, and by furnishing an abundant supply of good, wholesome water, for all. Its blessings are incalculable to both the rich and the poor, and we can never properly be said to be a city in the true sense of the term without water works. In fact, if we had greater facilities for obtaining water, and less opportunities for indulging in something stronger, it would be far better for all.

SEWERAGE.

I would recommend the Council to take early measures for procuring and adopting some feasible and practicable plan for draining the streets, alleys and cellars in the business part of the city. The sooner some action is taken in this matter the better for all parties concerned. Large and substantial blocks of stores and buildings are being erected on East Water and Main streets, and for private convenience as well as for public utility, sewers should at once be constructed so as to accommodate all who may desire to avail themselves of their uses and purposes. They should be constructed upon some permanent and substantial plan, and of sufficient size and capacity to admit of their being easily and thoroughly cleansed of all the filth and dirt that may accumulate and prevent the free and uninterrupted passage of water. Some equitable and just system of defraying the cost and expense should also be devised proportioned to the benefits accruing to each particular lot in the respective blocks through or along which the said sewers may pass.

HEALTH.

The general health of the city during the past year was such that there existed no necessity for the services of the Board of Health further than the appointment of a health officer in each ward to attend to the abatement of nuisances, and the cleansing of the streets and alleys, &c., from the filth and dirt which had accumulated during the winter. The Common Council should, at as early a day as possible, resolve itself into a Board of Health, pursuant to the ordinance upon that subject, and appoint in each ward a good, thorough active man for a health officer. By attending to this early, and by constant attention during the season, the causes of sickness and disease can be almost entirely removed or abated, and thus we shall be enabled to preserve in future the enviable reputation for health which we have heretofore enjoyed.

Could some means be devised by which the mortality of the city could be accurately ascertained, and published monthly during the year, it would be of vast importance to the city, and would necessarily attract to Milwaukee, persons desirous of life and health as well as the accumulation of riches. Milwaukee would have a decided advantage in this respect over any western city of her population.

HARBOR AND RIVER IMPROVEMENT.

During the past year a contract or agreement was entered into by the city, with the late Caleb D. Barton deceased, by which a certain contract for the construction of the harbor at the "straight cut" between the city and Abel Hawley was transferred to the said Barton, he assuming the liability of the said Hawley to the city for over pay which the said Hawley had received in advance, amounting to $21,000. By the terms of this transfer the Harbor was to be completed on or before the 1st day of August, A. D. 1856. The city to pay for the same the sum of fifty-nine thousand dollars, including the amount heretofore paid to said Hawley. The said Bartonto receive pay as the work progressed, upon the certificate of the city engineer the city reserving the right to alter or adopt new plans, the difference in the cost if any, to be adjusted by arbiters to be chosen by the respective parties. Reasonable time was also given for the contractor complete the work in case the alteration of the old or adoption of new plans should increase the amount of labor to be done. The Common Council soon after the making of the transfer of said contract from Mr. Hawley to the late contractor, adopted the Government plans, considering them more substantial and permanent, and at the same time being assured, that upon the adoption of the government plans, and upon no other conditions, the amount of government money in the hands of the United States Harbor Agent, at this place would at once be expended on the outward or lake section of said work. Arrangements were accordingly made by which the United States government, and city authorities are now co-operating in pushing forward the work. The late contractor has from time to time, upon the estimates of the city engineer, received upon his said contract, the sum of $13,000; and has paid on the indebtedness of Mr. Hawley, the sum of $4,608,10; leaving the sum of $16,391,90 yet to be paid to the city on Mr. Hawley's account. From the time the contract passed into the hands of the late contractor, until his decease, the work has been prosecuted with energy and ability. In his death the city has lost one of her most honest and energetic business men. In consequence thereof, the work may be somewhat retarded, but by no means abandoned, as his legal representatives are only awaiting the opening of navigation to resume the work, and carry the same on to a speedy and completion. I trust the Council will see the necessity of aiding their endeavors in every possible manner, and permit no obstacles on our part to be placed in the way to embarass the work or prevent its speedy completion.

I would also recommend a thorough investigation into the amount of work which has been done by Mr. Hawley, upon his contract to dredge the Milwaukee River, and so far as he is in default, if any, take such immediate legal steps as may be necessary to protect the interests of the city. I trust the Council will in fortune, having the experience of the past before them, see the folly of paying in advance upon any contract whatever, and discontenance the payment of money, any faster than it is really earned.

PUBLIC GROUNDS.

I would recommend the Common Council to take early measures for procuring public grounds for market houses, public squares and for parks. Perhaps no city in the West, of the size and population of Milwaukee, is as deficient in this respect as our town. There should be market grounds for wood, hay, and produce, in each ward in the city. There should also be public grounds for parks, and other public purposes, which will serve in after time, for utility and ornament. An act of the Legislature passed at its last session, makes ample provision for obtaining grounds for these purposes. Real estate can be procured as easily, and as cheaply, at the present time, as at any time hereafter; and the sooner the city avails itself of the present opportunity to accomplish this object, the less will be the cost, and expense, attending the purchase. We have already delayed too long in this matter, and every years delay, only adds to the ultimate cost, and expense. It is a disgrace to the city, to be able to exhibit no public grounds, worthy of its years, and its wealth. It looks as though a narrow, misguided policy had influenced the liberality of the early settlers, and those who have come after them in neglecting this matter for so long a time.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

During the year just passed, Milwaukee has been almost entirely exempt from the ravages of fire. Compared with other years, no damage has been sustained, to any amount in the aggregate. This is owing mainly to the efficiency of the fire department, and partly, perhaps, attributable to the establishment of the Police Department. Prevention is in all cases far better than cure. The vigilance of the Police has had much efficacy, in the prevention of fires, by the hands of plundering incendiaries. The fire department has also discharged their duties faithfully, and creditably, and fully sustained its former reputation for promptness in responding to alarms, and its efficiency when in actual service. They have nobly and disinterestedly contributed their time, and labors, for the public welfare, and are richly deserving of the thanks and gratitude of an appreciating community. In this connection, I would recommend a more stringent and systematic method, of compelling those who are in the habit of frequenting fires for mere pleasure or curiosity, to assist in the labors or at the "brakes." Hundreds of idle spectators are always on hand obstructing and hindering those who are willing to work, but they never have the manliness to lend a helping hand to those who are nearly exhausted by over exertion. A way should at once be provided to compel any and every person standing around and witnessing a conflagration, to assist the firemen in their endeavors to extinguish it. A suitable penalty should be imposed, and the police department empowered with sufficient authority to enforce compliance. During the coming year this department will require some aid and assistance in the purchase and repair of engines, hooks and ladders, hose carts, hose, &c. Suitable provision should also be made, if necessary, for the preservation and safe keeping of the fire apparatus belonging to the Department. The Common Council will act wisely, in granting them all the aid and assistance which they may really need. The subject of steam engines, for the use of fire departments, is now engrossing the attention of the authorities of the larger cities of the United States. And I have no doubt from the reports and statements of those who have witnessed an exhibition of their workings that they are destined eventually, to supercede for heavy work the use of all others. Our city however at the present time is so well supplied, and our fire-men are so active and efficient, that I deemed it impolitic and impracticable, to make any innovations or change, in the system now in use by this department. In truth, the only complaint that I have thus far heard, is that in many instances, through their prompt and active exertions, buildings are saved from devastation, when in fact, it would have been far better to have permitted them to be entirely destroyed. But this no fault of theirs. They do their duty, without regard to consequences.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

During the past year, the Common Council saw fit to establish a police department, under the supervision of the Mayor, to consist of one Chief, and not less than one, nor more than five policemen in each ward, to be appointed by the Common Council, upon the nomination and recommendation of the Mayor and Chief of the Police. At the present time the police force consists of one Chief and eleven policemen. Perhaps no one act of the Common Council has given so universal satisfaction, as the establishment of this department. It has infused throughout the city, a feeling of safety and security, hitherto unknown and at the same time it has operated as a "terror to evil doers." The Council has been very fortunate, in the selection of the Chief. As a detective police officer, he has few if any superiors—The policemen also who have been thus far selected, have discharged the duties of their respective stations, in a highly commendable and satisfactory manner. This department has been established about six months, during which time there have been 817 arrests, being 136 per month. A large majority of these arrests were for the commission of petty offences, such as drunkness, and breach of the Peace. The annual expense of the department as now organized, will be about $7,500. Judging from the past, the amount of penalties and fines will reach as high as $5 000.

Upon the opening of navigation, it will probably be necessary to increase the police force, to at least double that of the present number, in order to make the department efficient and serviceable. I am confident that the ordinance of the city would be executed with much more promptness, and rigidly and sternly enforced, if entrusted to the vigilence and activity of the police department than if their execution were left solely to one man.

Without any disrespect to the Marshal, or disarrangement of his abilities to discharge the duties of his office, as now defined. I would however, respectfully suggest the propriety of empowering the police officers with authority to execute and enforce, all ordinance for the government and good order of the city, for the suppression of vice, and prevention of crime, and all ordinances relating to the health, peace and morals of the city. Let the duties of the Marshal be principally confined to the collection of License money, attendance upon the Common Council, and the summoning of Juries pursuant to their orders. It will not do to leave the execution of the ordinances to both the Marshal and the police department. Their respective duties should be distinctly, and definitely prescribed. To this way, and no other, we shall be able to realize a strict, and complete enforcement of the several ordinances.

The labors of the police department are of that kind and nature that none but the best of men should be entrusted with the discharge of its duties and requirements. The present consemsation of the policemen is too small and inadequate to obtain the service of suitable persons for that station. I would recommend an increase of their compensation to fifty dollars per month.—The salary of the Chief, as now prescribed by ordinance, is one thousand dollars per annum payable quarterly. It was with a great deal of reluctance and only upon the express promise of the Board of Trade to raise an additional sum of five hundred dollars, that the Chief was prevailed upon to take the office. Any one acquainted with his peculiar qualifications and fitness for the office, is well aware of the fact, that at the present time, he is not receiving more than one half as much as his services would command in any other city or place where they might be required. I would commend, and urge you to raise his salary to two thousand dollars per annum, commencing with the present year.

SCHOOLS.

In relation to our Common Schools, it is perhaps unnecessary that I should make any suggestions or recommendations. Under our common school system, this department is placed almost entirely under the control of a board of commissioners, appointed by the Common Council for that purpose. This department, although not entirely independent of the Common Council, yet is an entirely distinct and separate branch of the city government, and was intended, when properly organized, to be complete in and of itself. It is made the duty of the board to report annually, on the first day of April, to the Mayor and Common Council, the proceedings and acts of the board, the number and condition of all the common schools kept in the city during the year, the time they have been severally taught, the number of children taught in said schools respectively, and the numbers between the ages of 5 and 16 residing in the city on the first day of January preceding, the amount of school monies raised or received during the year, the manner in which such monies have been expended, &c. No report of the kind has ever been made to my knowledge. But notwithstanding their neglect, to make an official report as required by law, as a board they have discharged the various duties of their office with credit to themselves, with satisfaction to the Common Council, and with profit and advantage to the common school interest of the city. The Common Council have always manifested a creditable liberality in supplying the city with everything necessary to facilitate the prosperity and success of institutions of this nature; and for that purpose, have from time to time, made liberal appropriations for suitable buildings in each Ward, for school purposes. During the year it will be necessary to make further provision for the erection of more school houses, in order to afford suitable accommodations for all the children in the city, that may wish to attend these schools. In respect to common schools, Milwaukee will compare favorably with any city in the Union. The teachers engaged in the several schools are well qualified for their respective stations, and under our liberal and wise state policy there should be no excuse whatever for any child in our city to grow up in ignorance.

The means of a good common school education, as well as the privileges of becoming acquainted with the higher branches, are accessible to all. No state in the in the Union has a larger school fund, or a more liberal policy for its distribution among the common schools than ours. Every accommodation should therefore be held out to the rising generation, to embrace the opportunities, which our city and state afford in this respect. Education will be the means of saving many a child from the penitentiary. It is like vaccination for the small pox. It is an antidote against the poisoned vials of ignorance and vice. Education alone may not produce this effect, but connected with moral culture it has a tendency to resist evil, and to disarm temptation itself of its many fatal snares. By morality I do not mean sectarianism, for I would not have religion, in the common acceptation of that term, taught in our schools. But there is a universal, well defined morality, disconnected with sectarianism, which lies at the foundation of all good society, which is recognized by all, and upon which depends the stability and perpetuity of any government.

This kind of morality cannot be too early inculcated. Let our common schools be of a high standard in this respect. Let them teach the distinction between right and wrong in practice as well as theory. Let them teach the young proper reverence and respect for age. Inculcate courtesy to each other, but, above all, teach them lessons of obedience to the rules and regulations of the school. It is there that children should be taught the observance of order. They should understand that the rules and regulations of the school are inflexible and are not to be violated with impunity. It is by littles that we become a law-loving and law-abiding people. A love of this principle must be early implanted in the mind of the young in order to produce a salutary and benign influence upon after life and the formation of an exemplary character.

I would recommend the Council to take early measures for the erection of sufficient school houses for the ample accommodation of all, and thus place within the reach of every child in the city the means of a good common education, without regard to cost and expense. But, in order to do this, it will be necessary to borrow money for that purpose, and of course increase the taxation of the city. But it is far cheaper in the end to support our common schools than our jails and State Prison. It costs more for the city to maintain one vice than to promote and encourage a dozen virtues. The people I have no doubt, will cheerfully respond to any additional taxation for that purpose. Where there are so many dollars voluntarily contributed to Kansas aid, Dannan Monument, Glover Rescue and Hannah Johnson funds, and other charitable purposes, I trust there will no one be found so lost to reason as to begrudge the small pittance which will be requisite, in order to educate the poor, elevate the down trodden, and break the chains of ignorance and vice which exist in our own midst, and while we are striving with force and arms for the freedom of States afar off, let us also endeavor to break the bonds of ignorance and vice and "teach the young idea how to shoot," at home.

I would recommend the passage of an ordinance authorizing and empowering the police to arrest or cause to be arrested all idle, dissolute or suspicious persons pursuing no legitimate or honest business in the city, who are in the constant habit of frequenting brothels and houses of ill-fame, who are too lazy to work and too proud to beg—but none too honest to steal. Her characters of this sort understand that Milwaukee will not tolerate their course of conduct, or harbor them within their borders, with impunity. Every community is more or less cursed with such characters, and Milwaukee is by no means exempt in this respect. We are reaping in our own midst, and encouraging by forbearance many young men who are last paving their way to the penitentiary. In many instances born of respectable parents endowed by nature with more than ordinary gifts of intelligence, and surrounded by all the comforts and conveniences of life, yet their moral training has been sadly neglected or easily forgotten. Their school house has been the gambling room, the brothel or the street. Their evenings have been spent in bachanalian revelry and debauchery, until dissolute habits and unhallowed schemes are fast "growing with their growth and strengthening with their strength." It needs the vigilant eye of the police to restrain them from the commission of overt acts of crime and misdemeanor. As we cannot reform them, let us take such steps as may be necessary to exclude them from our city, and thus prevent them from contaminating and ading others astray. If parents and guardians cannot teach their children the ways of virtue and morality, it becomes necessary for us as the conservators of the public peace, and as the guardians of the public welfare, to restrain them from the commission of vice and crime, and thus protect the community.

Let some stringent, inflexible ordinance be framed and passed, adapted to the case of idle, vagrant, dissipated, dissolute, licentious and abandoned persons, pursuing no honest or legitimate business, and let them be made to answer for the shameful and disgraceful course of life which they are pursuing.

SUNDAY DANCING, SHOWS & ENTERTAINMENTS.

Considerable complaint has reached my ears during the past year through the public press, and otherwise, of disorderly and improper conduct committed in various parts of the city on the Sabbath day, such as drinking, carousing and dancing, with an occasional row or breach of the peace, to the great disturbance and annoyance of others who wish to observe the day as a day of rest and devotion.

I know nothing as to the truth of the complaints made, or the magnitude of the offenses committed. If the evil exists to the extent complained of, it should not be tolerated in a civilized and christian community. Because we are said to live in a land of freedom, it does not necessarily follow that we can exercise unbridled license to do as we please, without regard to the rights and feelings of others. Such freedom as this would be but lawless anarchy and confusion. We should so use our own as not to injure the rights and privileges of others.

The constitution gives every person the right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience without molestation or disturbance. The statue law of the state declares that "no person shall keep open his shop, ware house or work house, or shall do any manner of labour or business or work, except only works of necessity and charity, or be present at any dancing or any public diversion, show or entertainment, or take part in any sport, game, or play on the Lord's day, commonly called Sunday," and prescribes a penalty in case of a violation of the statute.

The city charter empowers the Common Council with sufficient authority, to make and enforce all such ordinances rules and by-laws, for the government and good order of the city, for the suppression of vice and prevention of crime, as they may deem expedient.

We live in a republican government of a representative form, elected by the people, the will of the majority prevailing. The representatives so elected are our agents in the enactment of laws, and in the establishment of our government. And whenever laws are enacted it is our duty as good citizens to yield obedience, until altered or repealed. Where the law is express and its provisions plain there is no excuse for disobedience of its obvious requirements. As to the wisdom, justice, or policy even, of certain enactments, various opinions will always exist. But until that representative expression of the will of the people, declares against its policy by its repeal or modification, I hold that every citizen, high or low, rich or poor, is bound to obey. The tone of public sentiment in this country is against the desecration of the Sabbath.—The enactments of our state legislature are against it. The expressed will of the people, through their representatives, is adverse to any manner of labor or business or work, excepting works of necessity and charity, and expressly prohibit dancing, diversion, shows and entertainments, sports, games, and plays on Sunday. It is unnecessary for me to discuss the propriety or policy of this provision of the statute. I am as free perhaps from prejudice and conscientious scruples, in regard to the observance of the Sabbath day, as any one brought up in a civilized and christian community. But so long as the laws of the land declare a given policy to be right, and my duty as Mayor compels me to see that the laws of the state and ordinances of the city are duly observed and enforced, there is no alternative.

I have deemed it my duty to lay this matter before you, and if you shall think proper to pass an ordinance upon that subject, clothing the police with sufficient authority for that purpose, I shall deem it my duty to enforce its requirements.

SIDE AND CROSS WALKS.

I would call your attention, as street commissioners to the bad condition of the side and cross-walks, especially in the business part of the city. The side walks are in many places completely worn out, in the others as low, if not lower, than the street itself, and in many places in so uneven a condition as to render it extremely difficult for persons to travel on them with safety and convenience. The side walks should be made to conform to the grade of the street, and should in all instances be raised at least one foot higher than the street. A little attention, frequently bestowed during the year, will easily remedy these defects, and at the same time add very much to the beauty and convenience of the business departments adjoining. The cross walks are more frequently neglected than the side walks, although of almost equal utility and convenience.

The street commissioners should select one of their own number for active duty, whose particular business it should be, to inspect the various side and cross walks in his ward, and wherever any repairs or new walks are necessary to be made, authorize the same to be done forthwith. In this way the work will be much more likely to be performed, and the public interests promoted thereby. Another evil, and which calls loudly for reform, is the encroachments that are from time to time made upon the free and uninterrupted passage of the sidewalks by reason of the steps of stores extending in some instances as far as five feet upon the walks, and this in places where the side walk is only twelve feet wide. For the last few years there has been an ordinance in existance upon this subject, prohibiting the use of more than three feet of the sidewalks immediately adjoining the lots, in front of which, such side walks may be constructed. But notwithstanding the ordinance, permanent obstructions have been made from time to time, in many instances four, and sometimes five feet, out upon the walk. Another violation of this ordinance is in the daily hanging of cloths and garments, goods, wares and merchandize upon the awnings or awning frames in front of the stores, and also the hanging of large signs, extending or projecting over the entire side walk.

A stranger passing through our business streets would naturally come to the conclusion, that most of our merchants had their entire stock of goods upon the side walk, and that they were determined to attract attention by blocking up the walk, and obstructing the passage by an outdoor exhibition of their goods, wares and merchandize. The side walks should be k

—OF—

TURTON & SERCOMB,

296, 298, 300, 302 and 304 West Water St.,

IS STILL IN FULL BLAST, WORKING DAY AND night to supply the daily increasing wants of the Badger and other States.

In order the better to do this the proprietors have erected a large brick Foundry in addition to their former premises. They have added to their stock of Tools a large Planing or Shaping Machine, three Lathes, and a Machine for making bolts and are now putting in a Steam Engine of —— horse power to drive the whole thereby adding to the former facilities for the successful carrying on of the Foundry, Machine, Engine and Blacksmithing business. They never were in a better position for doing business, and the Proprietors refer to that in successful operation through the country, as their best recommendation, as it can speak for itself. All they can say is that they are both PRACTICAL MECHANICS, and know how should be done as well as the next man.

In regard to the character of the work got up by this

They continue to manufacture FLOUR and SAW MILL GEARING and STEAM ENGINES, on the most approved principle.

They have always on hand a large stock of BRASS WORK such as Screw and Cylinder Cocks, Oil Cups and Steam Whistles. Also Turton's Filer, which may well call at the lowest cash price.

They are also Agents for Hastings's Patent Screw Gauges, which are worthy the attention of all those who use steam engines.

In conclusion, they in the most earnest manner solicit a continuance of the liberal patronage so long extended to them, and those in want of Saw or Flouring Mill Work, assuming them that no exertions will be spared to render the old Eagle worthy of the reputation it has already gained.

Thankful for favors of the past, they hope to merit a continuance of the same.

THIS COMPANY offers unparalled facilities for the insurance of Buildings and Personal Property against fire. The advantages offered are security beyond the reach of circumstances as the real estate insured is by law bound for the assessment and the lower losses by and the power of evasion. Every person insured is a member of the Company, and entitled to one vote. The cost of insurance does not exceed, and indeed as much as in Stock Companies, saying nothing of the increased security and the incomparable ease with which losses are settled. During the last five years, this Company have issued 2000 policies, and made but three assessments, at a cost to the property insured, not exceeding two mills on the dollar—a fair business to be cheerfully confided to this State
